THE BANKS found business dull yesterday and had nothing new to report. The New York World says that "in was the hour agreed upon by those inspite of the sale of a sufficient amount terested. This sum ($67 50) is as mand was really insignificant, while near as possible 5; per cent, on the $1200 outside orders were much smaller than invested. The 5 20s of 1865, old (May and earlier in the week. Gold was again down New York yesterday, quoting 112] all merging; here Ill for small lots. In scrips and stocks nothing was reported. The St. Louis correspondent of the New York Insurance Monitor, says "insurance business is so superlatively dull that although agents and companies have complained at different periods during the last two years of very dull times, they are each and all ready to affirm that this month has carried of the palm as compared with correspo ing months of other years."
Heriford Post states the the leighty-six millions of the 1875 eighty-six militions of property was burned up, which is the wealth of the country. The losses returned am ant to more than fivesixths of the interest on the national debt, and beyond dcubt, if the actual es could be ascertained, the amount would exceed the national interest charge. Of course, the sufferers by these fires had returned to them about half their lesses through the insurance companies, but the loss out of the actual perty of the country was not altered by this shifting of the burden."
